Honoring a hero

Veterans Sonny Bean, Don Bennett and Dick Littlefield are advising sculptor Tom White (back right) as he creates a statue of Pfc. Emory Bennett. Bennett, of Cocoa Beach, Fla., died in Korea in 1951 while providing covering fire for his comrades during an enemy attack. The local vets have shared their knowledge of the uniform worn by soldiers in Korea to ensure the details are correct.

Strong turnout for local, state votes

By ALISON ALOISIO

Mirroring a statewide trend, Bethel area voters came out in force Tuesday to vote in statewide and local elections.

"It was the best turnout we've had in years," said ballot clerk Nancy Wight of Newry, where 178 of 248 registered voters came out.

"It was darn good," said Gilead Town Clerk Lin Chapman of the 81-voter turnout in her town. There are 146 registered voters there.

Bethel recorded 1,307 voters, compared to 1,147 in the last gubernatorial election, according to Town Clerk Kristen Mason.

Results

Woodstock and Upton went for several candidates who appeared they would come up short in the voting, but Bethel-area towns generally picked the winners, or at least leaders, in local and statewide elections.

Gov. John Baldacci, Sen. Olympia Snowe, Rep. Mike Michaud, and state Sen. Bruce Bryant were all headed for reelection by Wednesday's midday counts.

Locally, Woodstock and Upton voted for Republican Chandler Woodcock in the governor's race, and Upton went for Republican Len Gre-aney against Bryant.

In House District 91, Bethel Democrat Tim Carter was leading Republican Nancy Bessey of Dallas Plantation by 16 percent.

Bessey won locally in Hanover and Upton.

For county treasurer, incumbent Democrat Mary Ann Prue led Republican challenger Norm Ferguson by 5 percentage points.

Ferguson took most Bethel area towns, including his hometown of Hanover. Prue won in Gilead and West Paris.

In the race for District 3 County Commissioner, Republican Caldwell Jackson led Democrat Wade Rainey of West Paris by 16 percent.

Rainey won his hometown, as well as Woodstock, Greenwood and Albany.

In the contest to replace outgoing Sheriff Skip Herrick, Democrat Wayne Gallant of Rumford led Christopher Wainwright of Canton by 9 percent.

Wainwright won Woodstock and Upton.

Andover Republican Paula Smith won her town in challenging incumbent Democrat John Patrick for his House District 92 seat, but trailed

Local Korean vets lend their knowledge

By ALISON ALOISIO

On June 24, 1951, Army Pfc. Emory Bennett, 21, of Cocoa Beach, Fla., was killed near Sobangsan, Korea.

Bennett gave his life to allow other members of his company to safely retreat from an enemy attack. He was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor.

In the words of the Medal of Honor citation, "Upon orders to move back, Pfc. Bennett voluntarily remained to provide covering fire for the withdrawing elements, and, defying the enemy, continued to sweep the charging foe with devastating fire until mortally wounded."

Fifty-five years later, two Korean veterans from Bethel are helping sculptor Tom White memorialize Bennett.

A statue for the park Bennett's brother, John, has been part of an effort to raise money to create a statue of the war hero, and place it in Cocoa Riverfront Park. The park is located near where Bennett lived as a boy.

The $60,000 project is the result of a petition drive that drew strong support from Cocoa Beach residents. The city itself has donated $25,000.

Two years ago, the Bennett family found White on the Internet. Eighty-three-year-old John, said White, "has been waiting to do a memorial for years."

White provided him with examples of his sculpting, which include a variety of pieces displayed in public settings. Some of the subjects are religious figures, American Indians and gladiators. White said he particularly likes to depict warriors.

The Bennetts were satisfied they had found their sculptor, and in September, White began work on the life-size clay figure.

Bennett's statue, he said, "is the first war soldier I've done."

Vets lend knowledge White has been working from photos of Bennett provided by the family. The soldier's pose mirrors a photo taken of What is a hero?

"He got his bag onto the train. It was raining, and we said goodbye in the car. I never saw him again."

That's how 83-year-old John Bennett remembers his farewell in 1951 to his younger brother, Emory.

John could not know that less than five months later, Emory would die on a ridge in Korea saving his fellow soldiers.

But John had seen in Emory the qualities that would lead him to give his life for his comrades.

"I was not surprised at all," said John. "He did what was right everywhere he was."

The youngest of four brothers, Emory was particularly close to John, the next oldest by six years.

"We grew up very close," said John. "We used to duck hunt together. He was an expert shot. He was good at anything he did. And he was a kind and gentle person. He didn't like bullies."

In 1943, at 13, Emory won a citizenship medal from the local American Legion. At the same age, he was asked on an assignment from his English teacher to answer a question worth 10 points from a literature book.

The question: What is a hero?

Emory wrote that a hero is someone who unselfishly gives his life for someone else.

New veterans' monuments to be dedicated Saturday

By ALISON ALOISIO

Saturday's area Veteran's Day observances will include the dedications of two new war memorials.

At Rumford's Veterans' Park, individual granite stones will be installed for 60 heroes of four wars, including servicemen from Bethel and Newry.

Nine veterans from those two towns will also be honored. They include Stanley W. Allen, Harold E. Anderson, Parker T. Brown, Carl R. Churchill, Philip W. Daye, William J. Grover, George A. Mundt, and Sigard C. Olson of Bethel and Sigurd C. Richard of Newry, according to organizer Len Greaney.

Veterans from a total of eight towns will be honored by the regional memorial. The veterans are buried in 23 places that include France, Belgium, England, Italy, North Africa, Philippines, Hawaii, North Korea, North Vietnam and in America.

The park was chosen as the location for the new memorial for the following reasons: its central location for the participating towns; its proximity to Congress Street; the tranquility of the setting at the base of the Androscoggin Falls; the availability of park benches near the memorial for visitors; and the flag pole in the background displaying the American flag and the POW-MIA flag.

The dedication events will include: VFW American Legion Honor Guard with Pledge of Allegiance; prayer by clergy; reading of names of past heroes; a medley of patriotic songs; reading of names of local veterans serving in Iraq and Afghanistan.

West Paris will also dedicate a new Veterans' Monument on Saturday, recognizing those who have served since the Korean Conflict. It will sit next to the existing monument.

The celebration will start with a parade forming at 9:30 a.m. at the Agnes Gray School on Main Street. Participants will include the Majorettes, American Legion 151 Color and Honor Guard, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Patriot Guard, and the bagpipes played by Randy Mills.

Marching veterans will include James Ryerson, Richard Smith, Randy Jones, Wade Rainey, Del Wilson, and Wayne Penley.

The ceremony at the town square will be led by the West Paris selectmen and Pastors Bruce Tyner and Lloyd Waterhouse.

There will be brief statements from the representatives of Senators Collins' and Snowe's offices.

The Honor Guard will offer a gun salute in memory of those veterans who are deceased.

The festivities will conclude with coffee, cider, and refreshments at the American Legion Hall, where the ceremony will be held in the event of inclement weather.

LODGING TAX HIKE OPPOSITION SHORT SIGHTED

"SWIFTBOAT" CLARIFIED

Our Back Pages

Compiled by Danna Brown Nickerson

To the Editor:
Why do some people drive by a chain-outlet coffee store in order to buy a more expensive latte at a local coffee shop? For the same reason they fly over Georgia en route to vacations in Florida, even though Florida's lodging tax is significantly higher than Georgia's tax.
People hungry for unique experiences are not price shopping over pennies.
Which brings us to the recent debate over raising Maine's lodging tax. The knee-jerk opposition of some in the lodging industry is unfortunate and predictably shortsighted. The Brookings Institution and GrowSmart Maine recently released an ambitious plan for building sustainable prosperity in Maine that calls for making key investments in our "brand," which is the Maine character and quality of life, and in newly emerging innovation jobs of the future. They propose to pay for those investments by streamlining government and shifting more taxes to out-of-staters. Specifically, the report, called "Charting Maine's Future" calls for increasing Maine's lodging tax from 7 to 10 percent, which is more in line with other tourist-destination states and will bring us to the New England average.

They propose to use those new revenues from out-of-staters as dedicated funding for a Quality Places Fund, which would boost spending on the things that attract tourists and new business alike, including our small towns and rural landscape, open-space preservation, downtown revitalization, public access to outdoor recreation spots, and regional tourism promotion.
Some in the tourism industry feel victimized. They fear if the tax goes to 10 percent, Maine will lose its tourism business to New Hampshire or Vermont. But, New Hampshire does not have many coastal fishing villages and Vermont suffers from a serious lack of lighthouses.

The fact is that tourists will continue to come because we are special, and it is about time we started acting like we were, instead of fearing that people would not love us if they had to pay a few cents more to stay here. We have something important to offer. Where else can you sail on an authentic Windjammer, or fish for brook trout from the same stream bank where Henry David Thoreau cast a line, or buy antiques at an estate auction held on the lawn of the very homestead that has contained the antiques for generations, or buy sweet corn on the honor system at a roadside stand, or eat a lobster dinner while watching the catch come in?

What we do not seem to have is a long-term vision of how to build tourism in Maine and grow prosperity throughout the industry and the state. We always seem to be opposing things and acting out of fear.

A hike in the lodging tax dedicated to promoting unique Maine experiences could be the best thing that has ever happened to Maine tourism. We are in danger of losing the real Maine. Suburbia is here, nibbling away at our uniqueness. Currently, few of the taxes tourists spend in Maine are specifically dedicated to improving the experience of visiting the state. Most of the money goes straight into the general fund, which pays for everything from upkeep of state offices to school construction. The only tax money specifically geared to tourists is the $7.5 million a year the state spends advertising the state to them.
We can do better. And tourists will thank us.

First, increasing the lodging tax to 10 percent is reasonable. It would bring Maine's lodging tax to the middle of the pack in New England. The lodging tax is 9.7 percent in many Massachusetts towns and cities, as high as 10 percent in Vermont, and 12 percent in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Remember: it costs money to host millions of tourists a year. There is wear and tear on the roads, there is litter to pick up, there is sewage to treat, there are staff to hire to answer all those questions only tourists need to ask.

And think what that increase will buy? It will secure those things that make Maine special. It will buy permanent access to prized fishing spots. It will buy improvements that will breathe new life to Maine's historic downtowns. It will buy mountaintops, rocky shoreline, farmland and other places of scenic beauty threatened by development. It will buy new ways of promoting unvisited spots in Maine.

Far from driving tourists away, the investments made possible with an increase in the lodging tax will draw more tourists to Maine.

We Mainers do not value ourselves highly enough. Brookings says we have allowed ourselves to become a "cheap date" for tourists. We tax ourselves to death, while not expecting tourists to pay their fair share. Do we want to keep that reputation?

The Brookings/GrowSmart report is a welcome breath of optimistic long-term thinking that says to all of us: "snap out of it." Maine's a great place. We are on the cusp of great things. All we need to do is work together, plan together and stop being so down on ourselves.

It is time we recognized Maine for what it is, second to none. Finest kind.

To the Editor

What an interesting choice of words Toni Seger used in her letter last week. She stated, "Bethel's leadership has been trying to 'swiftboat' me for some time now." For the enlightenment of some readers the term "swiftboat someone" refers to the 2004 Presidential Election. Candidate John Kerry commanded a swiftboat in Vietnam and made many misleading, if not false claims. The most famous was remembering spending Christmas on a river in Cambodia. Due to riverboat blockades and physical barriers it was not possible to get a boat by river into Cambodia.

Several Vietnam veterans who had served with John Kerry in Vietnam felt that the record needed to be set straight. I'm sure it was painful for some of these brave men to come forward and relive those memories, but they felt the truth needed to be told. They gave the facts and the truth regarding Senator Kerry's claims, having been there themselves and thus having firsthand knowledge.

Toni Seger is a well-spoken lady who seems well acquainted with research. If she feels that Bethel leadership defeated her byway proposal with the use of facts and truth then I won't argue with her. I congratulate the selectmen on a job well done. The community has been well served.

REMEMBERING ELIZABETH LORD

To the Editor:

The recent passing of Elizabeth Lord brings home the fact that she is the next to the last surviving teacher (except for substitutes) I had in elementary and grammar school. Only Charlie Heino is left of those teachers who brought me through those formative years that included Mina Stevens, Alice Ballard, Libbie Kneeland, Doris Lord, Frances Gunther, and Olive Lurvey. I think it was in the seventh grade that I had Elizabeth Lord for a course in health. I don't recall much of anything specific about her class, except that some students thought she was quite strict, but I never found her anything but dedicated to teaching adolescents some fundamentals of health education.

It was when I came to work at the Bethel Historical Society that I began to appreciate her many abilities and fine qualities. Elizabeth was particularly adept at the old-time craft of quilling, which is knowing how to fold and cut various kinds of paper so skillfully and in the process create a whole range of designs and forms. It was a very popular activity in a bygone era and Elizabeth presented those attending our annual heritage events quite an exhibition of her skill and finished work. In the meantime, we came to know her keen sense of humor and her passion for helping visitors expand their knowledge of the past.

As age and infirmity took their toll, she became increasingly unable to spend much time with us in her later years. But she never lost her zest for studying the history of the area and for genealogy. We shall greatly miss her keen interest and faithful support over these many years.

REMEMBER THE VETERANS

To the Editor:

Nov. 11 is here again and it time to take a moment out of the busy day and remember our men and women who served in the Armed Forces of this country. Some of them were drafted and some enlisted anxious and ready to defend the United States. Wives, sweethearts and children, mothers and fathers were left at home and prayed their loved ones would return. Some did and others gave their lives.

Now again our men and women are in a foreign country fighting yet another war so that others may have the freedom that we enjoy. A celebration for these veterans will be held at the American Legion Hall in Locke Mills on Saturday. It begins at 9 a.m. and will only last about an hour. I ask you is that too much time to give to those who gave so much more?

COMMUNITY SHOWCASE COMING

To the Editor:

The second annual West Paris Community Showcase and Craft Fair will be held on Saturday, Dec. 2, from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. at the Agnes Gray Gymnasium on Main Street. Following at 5 p.m. a Christmas parade will form and proceed to the tree lighting in the park.

Last year's response was overwhelming. This year's event will follow the same guidelines with area for profit businesses and nonprofit organizations setting up displays and food booths, and local artisans selling their crafts. Last year's nonprofit organizations which included the American Legion and Auxiliary, the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Olde Home Days Committee, the Derby Committee, area churches, the Snowmobile Club, the Majorettes, the Historical Society, the Athletic Association, Snowmobile Club and Skunk Run are invited to join us again, as are all others who would like to participate.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus will drop in to ask area children their Christmas wishes and to remind all that Santa is checking his list.

To schedule display space, please call Lisa at 674-2127. The fees collected will help with a community project. Display spaces will be $5 if you supply your own table and $10 if the event committee supplies the table.

Grange to serve as shelter?

NEWRY—Selectmen are considering a proposal from Gary Wight, the town's Emergency Management Agency director, to purchase a generator for the Bear River Grange Hall. The move would allow the building to be used as a shelter in an emergency situation, such as an ice storm, the officials said. They said they would ask Wight to research the costs involved.

NewPage machine to shut down

RUMFORD—NewPage Corp. has announced one of its paper machines is expected to shut down for three months in 2007, possibly affecting 50 employees. The company said the shut-down will prevent overproduction in the current market. The paper machine produces approximately 300 tons of coated paper each day.

White Cap fundraising continues

RUMFORD—The Mahosuc Land Trust is continuing its efforts to raise funds to purchase a 761-acre parcel on Rumford Whitecap mountain from Bayroot LLC. The rock-topped, 2,200-foot high mountain has long been a popular hike and site to pick blueberries. The MLT has so far raised $128,000 toward the $678,153 purchase price. The cost also includes long-term maintenance of trails, signs, parking and other expenses. The Land for Maine's Future Program has approved a grant of $243,000 for the project. The fundraising deadline for MLT is March 30, 2007.

Deputy dies on river dive

AUBURN—An Androscoggin County Sheriff's deputy died Saturday while diving for evidence in the Androscoggin River. David Rancourt, 40, was pulled from the river by other divers after signaling them for help. He was pronounced dead at Central Maine Medical Center in Lewiston shortly after arriving.

Millinocket draws tourists

MILLINOCKET—Millinocket is an up-and-coming travel destination for 2007, according to the Website TripAdvisor.com. On the popular travel Website's Top 10 list, the shrinking mill town ranked No. 6, beating out Vail, Colo. Also in the list were Breckenridge, Colo.; Eureka, Calif.; Macon, Ga.; Anna Maria, Fla.; and Kailua, Hawaii. Millinocket Town Manager Gene Conlogue learned of the ranking last week at a council meeting. "Everybody smiled and had a chuckle," he said on Tuesday. "We were certainly pretty surprised." The travel forecast, a first for the company, is based on one proprietary algorithm that measures searches and comments posted on the site, TripAdvisor spokesman Brooke Ferencsik said. Ferencsik said he's never been to Millinocket but knows Baxter State Park is a draw. "It's really kind of a paradise for those who love the outdoors," he said. Phil Savignano, senior tourism officer at the Maine Office of Tourism, said the ranking validates the state's new effort to pilot a nature-based tourism program. The woodlands surrounding Millinocket are rural and remote, Savignano said. It's not a Hollywood version of the outdoors, he added. "I think we still have a pretty good lock on authentic."

Powered wheelchairs available

Wishes on Wheels makes available Electric Power Wheelchairs to non-ambulatory senior citizens and the permanently disabled of any age, if they qualify. Usually, there is no charge or out-of-pocket expense for the power wheelchair, including shipping and delivery to the home by a technician, who makes the final adjustments to fit the individual and shows them how to use and maintain it. No deposit is required and there is no obligation for determining if they qualify. Electric wheelchairs are provided to those who cannot walk and also cannot operate a manual wheelchair sufficiently or safely enough to care for themselves in their residence. They do have to be able to safely operate a joystick controller on the armrest and understand the basic instructions. For more information, call (800) 823-5220 or go to www.threewishes2.com.

Backseat drivers wanted

AUGUSTA—The Maine Department of Transportation is inviting fourth-graders to participate in the Backseat Driver Poster Contest. Pupils are asked to design a poster with an accompanying slogan that encourages safe driving in work zones. During the past 10 years, more than 7,000 work zone-related crashes in Maine have caused more than 3,400 injuries. The contest is designed to teach pupils the do's and don'ts of driving safely in work zones, and to encourage them to be "backseat drivers" by reminding their parents to drive safely, too. Contest winners will share $2,400 in prize money for classroom activities, and the top 12 entries will be showcased in a new, full-color calendar to be distributed around the state. Contest rules and a registration form can be downloaded from www.mainebackseatdriver.com. Entries must be postmarked by Nov. 30.

him during an off-duty moment in Korea.

Because White had only pictures for reference, he decided to seek out area Korean veterans to advise him on the details of the uniform.

"I wanted someone to help me critique it, so I don't embarrass someone by being wrong," said White.

He found vets Sonny Bean and Dick Littlefield, who both experienced combat while in Korea. They came to White's studio and provided information on everything from shoulder patches to the straps on the helmet.

Bennett's uniform did not have shoulder patches depicting his division, a surprise to White.

But Littlefield provided a possible explanation. When he was serving in Korea, he said, "we would be on the line for three weeks. They'd bring us back and feed us and we'd have a shower. But we took whatever clothes they had," he said. "You didn't know what you were going to get. They were clean. That was all."

Littlefield and Bean also described a helmet strap, not visible in the photo, which held the helmet and its liner together.

The men had some trouble remembering whether the uniform pants had pockets in the back.

But Don Bennett of Bethel, who joined the Army shortly after the Korean Conflict, was able to answer that question by researching the war era on the Internet.

He found good photos of Korean soldiers and was able to confirm there were no pockets.

White said the three men have been a great help to him, and he will continue to consult with them as he progresses on the sculpture.

"It's fun to bring them over," said White.

"I appreciate being part of it," said Bean.

Dedication in spring
When White completes the sculpture, it will go off to a foundry to be cast in bronze. White plans to transport the 400-pound piece to Florida himself in January, in the back of his truck.

He's already been to the site once, to get an idea of the scale to use for the sculpture.

White will supervise its placement on a four-foot-high pedestal, provided by the fund-raisers.

A dedication is planned for Memorial Day 2007, according to John Bennett.

John said that in his brother's last letter home before his death, Emory said he was looking forward to coming home and living out his life in Cocoa Beach.

"He didn't make it," said John. "But we'll put the statue up a block from where he grew up."

Medal of Honor Citation

The citation for Pfc. Emory Bennett's Congressional Medal of Honor provides the details of the action that resulted in his death, and led to the award of the medal:

The President of the United States in the name of The Congress takes pleasure in presenting the Medal of Honor to Private First Class Emory L. Bennett, U.S. Army, Company B, 15th Infantry Regiment, 3d Infantry Division. Place and date: Near Sobangsan, Korea, June 24, 1951. Entered service at Cocoa, Fla. Born Dec. 20, 1929, New Smyrna Beach, Fla.

Citation: Pfc. Bennett a member of Company B, distinguished himself by conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty in action against an armed enemy of the United Nations. At approximately 0200 hours, 2 enemy battalions swarmed up the ridgeline in a ferocious banzai charge in an attempt to dislodge Pfc. Bennett's company from its defensive positions. Meeting the challenge, the gallant defenders delivered destructive retaliation, but the enemy pressed the assault with fanatical determination and the integrity of the perimeter was imperiled. Fully aware of the odds against him, Pfc. Bennett unhesitatingly left his foxhole, moved through withering fire, stood within full view of the enemy, and, employing his automatic rifle, poured crippling fire into the ranks of the onrushing assailants, inflicting numerous casualties. Although wounded, Pfc. Bennett gallantly maintained his 1-man defense and the attack was momentarily halted. During this lull in battle, the company regrouped for counterattack, but the numerically superior foe soon infiltrated into the position. Upon orders to move back, Pfc. Bennett voluntarily remained to provide covering fire for the withdrawing elements, and, defying the enemy, continued to sweep the charging foe with devastating fire until mortally wounded. His willing self-sacrifice and intrepid actions saved the position from being overrun and enabled the company to effect an orderly withdrawal. Pfc. Bennett's unflinching courage and consummate devotion to duty reflect lasting glory on himself and the military service.

overall by a two-to-one margin.

In the House District 95 race, Greenwood narrowly chose Democrat Roy Gedat over Republican H. Sawin Millett, but Millett led overall by about 4 percent.

County Register of Deeds, Jane Rich of Andover was easily re-elected.

Referendum issues
There were two referendum questions on the ballot. The Taxpayer Bill of Rights, or TABOR, was defeated in all Bethel area towns except Woodstock, but was leading slightly county-wide.

The second question, which specified a time limit for the submission of petitions for future referendum questions, drew mixed votes among area towns.

A LESSON IN DEMOCRACY—Pupils at the Crescent Park Elementary School watch as Bethel voters cast their ballots in Tuesday's election. A total of 1,307 residents turned out, compared to 1,147 who voted in the last gubernatorial election.

Most area towns reported a large number of voters. U.S. Senate, House of Representatives, state and county offices were also at stake, as well as two referendum questions. (Photo: A. Aloisio)

Ironically, said John, the teacher took six points off the answer because Emory didn't provide an example.

Eight years later, the 21-year-old soldier gave an example, with his own life.

"He lived that," said John.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston

Guests of Judy Barker over the weekend were her granddaughters, Darcy, Destiny, Danielle of Auburn. Also Dennis and Jan Barker of Mechanic Falls. Doris Fraser has friends George and Ida Weitz from Bear Creek, Penn., visiting her while enjoying their time at Upton and hunting. Richard and Nancy Fraser and Pat LaRose of East Poland were with Doris Fraser over the weekend.

The Grange dance at North Waterford on Saturday night was very well attended with at least 65 in attendance. The Richard Felt band played and refreshments were served at intermission.

Ginger and Gene Kelly spent two weeks visiting her sister and husband, Jim and Barbara Hadden in Las Vegas, Nev. While there they went to Hoover Dam, Grand Canyon, Zion National Park, and Bryce Canyon. It was a wonderful visit but they were glad to get home to the green.

Glenn M Bangs, grandson of Bob and Ginny Keniston, is in first Alert Hospital as LPN in Mosul, Iraq. This is an e-mail from him. "All is well. Pretty busy here the first month. It has been quiet lately. Seen and done what I had expected within the first week. I have a good team in the ER. We started out working 12-hour shifts and switched to 8-hour shifts last week. Nice to get some sleep and unpack. I am told we have the best setup in the country by many who come here from other bases. I get a hot shower every day, movie theater plays, movies everyday, two gyms that I visit every day, two computer labs. We have a band room and are expecting a shipment container full of instruments. They put me in charge of this. I live in a two-man room that is 8x16 with AC. I have a great roommate/battle buddy. We have a bunker eight feet from my door that we got to know very well the first two weeks. The weather is cooling now and the rain season is upon us. We are up in the foothills of the mountains. Weather is nice here compared to the south. The trees here are very tall and slender and have leaves like a weeping willow. The soil is clay like. Dusty when dry and mucky when wet. I have been getting e-mail from most of the family. It is really nice to keep in touch."

Mayville News By Don Bennett

Rooster's Roadhouse will be closed from Nov. 5 through the 16th — reopening Friday, Nov. 17. Gary said that they will be off to London and the Canary Islands and to thank everyone for their support — this is from me and the Roadhouse Crew. "We now have three full-time people and 10 part-time staff. We never thought that we would be busy enough to have such a staff, plus we are very lucky to have such good people."

"Rooster's will be open Thanksgiving to serve traditional New England fare from Roast Turkey, Prime Rib, Lobster, Haddock, Duckling ala Orange and more. Roast Turkey Dinner will be $15.95, including soup and salad bar. Fresh vegetables, whipped potato, and of course desserts. We'll be serving from 12 to 6 p.m. and reservations will be appreciated."

"Steve's parents, Ben and Fran, will be off to Florida for a few months enjoying their retirement. We (all the staff will miss all their help!) Ben is the reason our place looks so nice because he does all our lawn work. Fran does all our linens — we do not use laundry service for napkins and tablecloths."

Across Mayville Road from Rooster's Roadhouse, Ross and Carole Timberlake made progress in building their new barn last week. A cement slab foundation has been poured and the beginnings of the building's frame have started.

Sonny Bean, Dick Littlefield and I got together again Monday at Tom White's Studio. Dick asked "What do you think of all the development in Mayville? Did you think it would ever happen like this?" (Dick and I at two slightly different times milked many of the same cows.)

Thinking about Dick's question, this is what I know or remember about what happened. From the 1890s on any way, Mayville saw almost no "development" until the 1950s. It was mostly farm land and woodland. When Riverside Trotting Park and then the Riverside (Bethel Agricultural) Fair (1891 to 1934) organizers decided on Mayville for these attractions, it was truly a "big event". However, the rest of Mayville's farms and boarding houses were not affected. Buildings shown on an 1880 map of Bethel are here now except for those that burned.

Circa 1950 my parents owned a strip of land north of the Clantons that had been a night pasture and my grandparents' homestead; it had burned in 1936. Farmers always need cash and this was a good place to swap land for money. Two lots were sold for homes to be built. A few years later when the Glines built a motel on their lot it did not seem like a change of use because my grandparents had always opened their house to summer boarders. Some years later when the Glines built a restaurant to go with the motel that was a new step for this location. (Remember though that the Ernst family were operating The New Yorker restaurant where the Roastay is today.) Then circa 1960 Paul Carter bought a lot and built a garage for his equipment business. That was the first significant change of use in Mayville. My father's farm machine shop was primarily for his use and for service to the neighboring farmers, Harrington, Thurston and Ladd.

In 1966 the Thurston dairy farm started a transformation process that ended in the late 1980s with the River View Resort, although the fields are still farmed. In the 1970s the Godwin family began the Twin Oaks Campground. These events shifted the local scene from more tourism to less farming. In the early 1990s the "Brew Pub" opened on farm land that had been unused for a number of years. Sunday River Ski Resort influence was very strong in this development.

The Good Food Store is an "ancient building" that after Ted Swan died has seen different uses and I think falls into the home business category. However, 18 wheelers from big brand vendors parked on the highway while delivering have started to interfere with traffic flow. So Good Food may be growing beyond a home business. It does attract a lot of local people.

So when did the noticeable big change start? Circa 1994 when Rich Savage developed that convenience store and gas station that Irving occupied today. This location seems to be in line with what seems to be Mayville's greatest, but far from only, business strength — catering to travelers. It was built on the two acres where my grandparents built their retirement home in 1946. Following the gas station, BIG Adventure Center made a "BIG" impact on Mayville's stage — while I appreciate the intent of the builders, I wished it had been located elsewhere because the beautiful view upriver has been lost now for years.

And what factors trigger this change? Since the "big bridge" was built in 1869 travel from Bethel's rail station north to the lakes made Mayville's road north an important highway. Sunday River as a magnet has kindled business development ideas that have now enveloped Mayville. But in my opinion as a word of caution, Mayville is still a travel link and not a destination. Our new recreational bridge may change Mayville's ability to attract more local people, on foot — only time will tell.

West Bethel

by Lorrie Hoeh

About 1 a.m. Sunday morning the thermometer hit a low of 17 degrees, the coldest yet this fall. At the beginning of the week, weather forecasters were predicting warm weather in the 40s and 50s for this week. On Monday morning, however, we woke to see a dusting of snow on the barn roof and the sleeping garden. As Jake and I had our morning constitutional, we noticed a skim of ice on the ponds and marshy areas, and the forest road was white with a thin layer of snow on which we left faint tracks. Of course, all the whiteness was gone by the time we arrived back home, but it reminded us that we may have more to come.

Last Thursday Mike saw a bunch of goldfinches descend on the feeders to join the old standbys. On Monday morning I noticed about a dozen doves pecking away underneath the feeders. By next week there will probably be two dozen or more, but that's okay — all are welcome.

The Rev. Earl Bell called to say that beginning this past Sunday, there is now a Sunday School class for adults at the West Bethel Union Church. He emphasized that this takes place after coffee hour, so folks can have their cookies, coffee, and confabulation before joining the study group. Any interested adults are welcome and urged to attend.

The West Bethel Church ladies had their annual Craft Fair last Saturday at the church. Some of the leftovers were sold on Sunday morning. As usual, a group of Upton ladies showed up on Saturday, and West Bethel welcomed their "once-a-year friends." Mark your calendars for December's first Saturday, Dec. 2, when the annual Christmas Wreath and Greens Sale will take place.

The Kuliks left last Wednesday on their sojourn to points southwest. They are taking a circuitous route to Scottsdale, Ariz., to avoid tornado towns, blizzard boroughs, and snowy situations. We wish them a warm and comfortable winter down yonder.

My friend Anne Gass and I spent the weekend at Loon Mountain Resort in New Hampshire at The Gathering of the Northeast Handspinners' Association. Two or three hundred of us partook of classes and workshops to upgrade our skills or to learn new ones in knitting, weaving, spinning, rug-hooking, felting, etc. We were kept in "stitches" on Saturday evening by a humorous storyteller, a woman from New Hampshire who specializes in New England humor. While she tickled our funnybones, we were spinning, knitting, and otherwise occupying our hands while listening raptly and laughing riotously.

I don't know about you, but regardless of how it turned out, I am mightily glad the election is over. The lies, accusations, and negative advertising have worn me down. Must be getting old.

Congratulations to the winners, and may you take your responsibilities seriously and do your jobs well.

How about some news, folks? 836-3011; dhoeh@megalink.net.

Upton

by Eleanor LeComte

Deer hunting season is in full swing. It's a little different this year. In the old days the hunter would rise early and consume a huge bowl of oatmeal followed by bacon and eggs and a large cup of coffee, then head into the woods to pursue the elusive stag. Nowadays, at least in Upton, the hunter rises early, warms up his Jeep and heads for the Upton Village Store for a fill-up of coffee, several of Colle's breakfast sandwiches and a session of deer stories.

This morning several "ATVs" passed by the window. The International Orange Garb could be seen a mile away. They traveled with great expectation. I shall watch for their return at dusk with their expectations somewhat subdued. There are cars from several states parked up the hill. The plates vary from Rhode Island, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, and New Hampshire. They aren't all present at the same time. I haven't heard the crack of a rifle yet. I'm waiting!

Joy Yarnell has "deer proofed" her gardens well this year. Joy is back, cane and all, working the garden for next year's beautiful display.

During the horrendous winds of last week a large, beautiful spruce fell on our little library doing considerable damage. The debris has all been carted away and the end result is the new exposure tells us the building needs a bit of restoration. A fallen balsam fir on the edge of our woods has provided me with plenty of greens for the window boxes. If anyone wants some they can help themselves.

Thank you to those who offered to help at the Christmas Party. Most of the people work days and can only help in the evening.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

At long last the election is over and all of those roadside signs will be going away. I'm glad about that. We will no longer have to look at the names of people who ran for everything from Selectperson to Governor.

I wonder, now that Election 2006 is in the history column, if the man who legally changed his name to "The People's Hero" will legally change it again. I guess it's his name and he can do whatever he wants with it.

"The People's Hero" was certainly not the first candidate to do a name change for the sake of an election. In Idaho there was a candidate running for Governor who changed his name to "Pro-Life". I don't know if Mr. "Pro-Life" won, but I haven't heard or read anything about Governor "Pro-Life", so I assume he did not. If he didn't win he could change his name to "Also Ran."

Last year another "Also Ran" changed his middle name to "None of the Above." The state in which he resides however, would not put the "None of the Above" on the ballot because it was already there. Imagine that!

There is a man in Russia who changed his name to Harry Potter. He lost the election, but, at least so far, Harry Potter is still a winner.

I never thought about changing my name. I did go through a teenage period when I thought "Sharon" was sort of boring and I called myself "Sherry." That lasted for all of two weeks. Then for an even shorter period I went by "Shar," like the singer. That is until I discovered that the singer spelled her name "Cher," so I added the "on" back on mine.

Believe it or not, there are at least three people in America named "ESPN."

People are always trying to come up with clever or unusual names for their children or they are greatly influenced by a popular movie or television show.

Jennifer was the most popular girls name in America from 1970 to 1984. It all started because of the lead female in the tear-jerking movie "Love Story." I wouldn't be at all surprised if "Brittany" has become a very popular name in the last few years. I certainly hope that people don't take to naming their daughters "Paris."

In 2000, Christian Rocker, Sonny Sandoval named his newborn baby girl "Neveah," which is "heaven" spelled backwards. That name has now become more popular in this country than "Mary."

Believe it or not, there are at least three people in America named "ESPN." I assume the people with that name are men and I would further assume that they willingly changed whatever their real names are. I would hate to think that anyone would dub their child with "ESPN" at birth.

There is probably a story that goes along with most of the names given to new-born babies. My grandson, Tristan, was named for a character that Brad Pitt played in a movie. I don't remember the name of the movie, but the name of the character will forever be very special to me.

Another grandson, Reese, is named after the peanut butter cup. Not because his mother or father were especially hung up on the candy, but because an ultra sound had promised a girl and no boys names were picked.

When the nameless boy appeared on the scene, his stunned parents were not prepared. However, a box that happened to be in the hospital room had once contained the famous candy, thus a name was chosen. I always thanked God that the box had not once contained Kotex.

I do find names, especially the weird made-up ones to be amusing or interesting, but I think I'll stick with the name I have. Rest assured that I do not plan, at any time, to change my name to "The Way I See It."

Last week via Mike Daniels and Polly Davis we received a letter from some nice people in Georgia. Alex and Judy feed many birds and critters down south. They vacation at a farm in Sumner every summer. At their feeder in Georgia they have mocking birds, cardinals, wrens, towhees, doves, blue jays, titmice, robins, nut-hatches, and wood thrush. Their hummers left last week. What a variety. The Bird of the Week is at their feeder right now. It's that noisy mocking bird.

Incidentally, Judy and Alex enjoy reading The Citizen. We thank them for their lovely letter and for feeding all those critters down there.

From the papers sent to us from Violet Swain, Jennie Judkins' old newspaper clippings held a wealth of history. The following paragraph concerns an account of population variations over the years.

"At the turn of the century Upton had a population of about 250 souls. Many were farmers working part time in the woods. During the following years many farms were abandoned and the population declined to about 150. From 1940 to 1945 the population declined greatly. World War two caused a migration of families to areas with war related industries. Younger men went into the service of their country. After the war the population increased to a little over a hundred as they returned home. The population would explode in the summer when the 'Summer People' returned to their cottages and the Lake House."

The natural beauty of the lake and the mountains attracted many. It still does today in 2006. The population is gaining again. We may have as many as 80 citizens by 2010.

Greetings and hello
from Albany Township.

Frosty

have been giving way to fairly warm days. But, we all know that won't last long, and soon the snow and blustery winter winds will be visiting our lovely neck of the woods.

Elections were held this week and we shall see how the results will affect our daily lives from hereinafter. There were many issues on the ballot, including TABOR, the governorship, new senators and congressmen to Washington, new representatives to Augusta, and so on. Also, this year saw the Community Hall's first use as the polling place for Albany Township.

Veterans Day is this Saturday, the 11th.

Best wishes for a happy and safe week. God Bless and Keep.

The annual
Chicken Pie Supper will be held at the
West Paris
Universalist

Church Thursday, Nov. 16, at 5:30 p.m. Cost is $7 for adults, $3 for children 11 and under. Dessert will be cream cake served on pedestal plates.

Halloween has come and gone which means winter is on its heels. We had about 12 children accompanied by adults. Some of the ones who came trick or treating were Devon Benson, wife and daughter, neighbors Monica and friends, Megan Mack and daughter, Lexi, who is so cute with long blonde hair. I am always glad to see the kids all dressed up in their costumes.

Our special little great-grandson, Landon Komulainen, came with his mother, Jessie. He was dressed in a chicken costume. They had been to several relatives and friends visiting through the afternoon.

One day last week Luna Martin, Adelaide O'Neil and I went out to lunch at Maurice's in South Paris. After, we went back to Adelaide's apartment for visiting and talking about everything. We were classmates at Woodstock High School and try to keep in touch whenever we can. I had a great time and plan to do it again.

Quote of the Week: "I have learned that whatever you go to the doctor for, it feels better once you get there."

Davey Ben-

how very pleased she is with the beautiful memorial guitar creation he did for her son Douglas Vail's gravesite. It is visible from the road. I walked up to see it, as it is located at the back of the cemetery which is located on the right of Route 26 just before the Town Office.

Amy Robertson, daughter of Leslie and Toni Robertson, is now back in her Locke Mills home upon discharge from Central Maine Medical Center following major surgery last week. She is doing well and we all wish her the speediest of recovery and wonderful health in her days ahead.

In the early morning of Wednesday, Nov. 1, Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark and Polly Mahoney drove to Rhode Island. Karlene and Betsy stayed with Karlene's son, Brent, in Providence and Polly drove to a friend's home in Jamestown. Brent drove Karlene and Betsy to see a new roller skating rink in Brockton, Mass. Brent had designed and painted the walls of the new rink. The next day on their way back to Maine, Karlene called her daughter, Claire, at Goodall Hospital to see if she could join them for supper when they reached Kennebunk. Claire was able to do this and the four of them had a nice visit before Claire headed back to Sanford and the three Newryites drove home.

Gilberte Seeley asked me last week to say thank you to all who helped in any way to make her recent birthday such a special one. She especially sends thanks for the many cards she received and for the wonderful food at the potluck luncheon prepared by so many of her well wishers. It was also our pleasure.

Whoever made the delicious pumpkin cookies with cream cheese frosting for Gil's party, Karlene's great-granddaughter would love to have the recipe.

This past weekend, Betsy and Karlene drove to Windsor to a baby shower for Julie.

This past Saturday, I headed for Rumford and joined my sister-in-law Johan Schwind, who drove us to her daughter Rebecca's home in Hallowell. After having coffee and a visit, my niece Rebecca drove as we started our third shop-a-rama. We shopped in Hallowell, Gardiner, Augusta and Waterville, stopping to rest and dine in transit. It was great being together again. On Sunday, while Johan and Rebecca were putting a few things up on the walls and getting her new apartment organized, they called me over to see a doe and buck who were slowly walking by the window. We headed out again to do a bit more shopping before Johan and I returned home. I made it back just before dark with time enough to unload the car, drive it down for the night and get back up the drive walking exceptionally slow with flashlight in hand.

Now that the voting is over, I sure do hope the signs that have been desecrating our beautiful state are removed with haste.

Since the time change, the drive home from work is now in the dark, but at least it is lighter in the morning.

I would really like to hear from people in town with their news. This column is to keep you informed of what is happening in the town.

Good to see Sue Saunders home after her visit to the hospital. Take care and follow doctor's orders.

I got an e-mail recently from Captain Stephen McLain, III, son of Steve and Lise McLain, with an attachment. He sent a picture of their three children, Marina, Nathan and Quinn, with the Maine pumpkin that they carved for Halloween. They are growing up so fast.

Hugh and I traveled to Turner this past Saturday. We attended the Cross Country State Championship Race. Our grandson, Ben Chapman of Ellsworth, ran in the Class

B race. His school won the Eastern Maine Championship the week before, which qualified them to attend States. Cape Elizabeth took first place and Ellsworth finished second. This means that they travel to Rhode Island on Nov. 11 for the New England Championships. Ben is running varsity for his school and he finished the race in 26th place out of approximately 100 runners. The top runner had a time of 16:20 and Ben finished with a time of 18:11 (fourth on his team). Needless to say we are very proud of his accomplishments and can't wait to see how they do in Rhode Island.

On Sunday, Hugh and I attended a birthday party for our grandson, William Chapman, at his Dad's house. William turned 6 years old on Nov. 6. Those enjoying cake and ice cream, besides us, were Tim and Michele, Annie Chapman, Sidney Chapman, Ajay Landry and Michele's parents, Leo and Ann Croteau.

Planning Board

I attended some of the PB meeting on Nov. 2 and the main topic was the subdivision on Peaked Hill.

A Special Meeting of the Planning Board will be held on Nov. 14 in the Town Hall beginning at 7 p.m. to review the recently submitted Peaked Hill Estates Subdivision application for completeness. A site walk for the subdivision has been scheduled for Nov. 13. Both are open to the public. Individuals interested in participating in the site walk should meet at the Town Hall at 10 a.m.

News from Mrs. Neiberle Well, the farm stand is coming to a close so I won't be finding much news to write. So this may be the last for the summer.

Karen Yarasites had her aunt, Sally McGonigle, from Massachusetts for a visit. They went to the Fryeburg Fair and a train ride in North Conway. Sally enjoyed the beauty of Maine and the company of Karen, and Sid.

Cindy Bobbe came in and told me her daughter, Victoria Bobbe, is in Tignes, France for Alpine race training for 10 days. She is a member of the Gould Academy ski team.

Abby Landry picked out a pumpkin with her Mom Amy. Abby told me she is four years old now. Dad Phil was at work.

Sue Marshall came in and said hello. She lives across the street from Pat Howe.

Monday, a modular house was delivered and put together on Dudley Road.

Patty Caret came for a cup of tea yesterday. She is hoping for snow to go skiing. She attended the Craft Festival at Sunday River a few weekends back.

The leaves are falling so fast; most of the colors are gone. But you are so busy looking at the falling leaves you don't notice the lawn could be cut one more time.

Gerry and Bill Kelley came for a visit. They just came back from Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. They said the red dirt was very rich looking. Lots of cranberries there. They are friends of ours from Andover.

Wow, it was snowing today on Mt. Washington. Glad we are only getting rain. I know skiers want snow, and so do the snowmobilers, but December will be soon enough.

Dot Cushman and I went to visit Nancy Cummings in Bethel. Nancy has been ill and is happy to be feeling better.

We took her for a ride to Grafton. Nancy's grandson, Darren Buker, came with us. Dot told me the evergreen trees that turn the color yellow have a special name, hackmatack.

Received a beautiful single pink rose enclosed with baby breath that came from Silver Creations. It was a very nice surprise and gift.

Saw Ellie Andrews' picture in the Western Foothills newspaper.

T'ai Chi classes with Nancy Willard started at Whitman Library on Oct. 26 at 4:30 p.m.

Ingrid Twitchell gave a presentation on wool making at Whitman Library. The next guest speaker will be Sayward Lamb on Thursday, Nov. 9, at 10 a.m. He will talk about his book, "Deer Tails and Other Tales."

Aila Kay Pawlowski was born on Sept. 15, 2006, to Scott and Miina Pawlowski. She weighed 6 pounds, 11 ounces and was 19.5 inches long.

Nice to see Doreen Johnson today. She and I met about 14 years ago or longer. I always call her to fix my computer. She sells real estate at the Four Seasons.

Woodstock Fire Department gave mutual aid to West Paris last Friday. Unfortunately this was a house fire on Route 219.

For some reason areas of Bryant Pond had no electric power on Saturday all day. Cushman Road is being paved a little way up.

My grandchildren, ages 12 and 6, came for a visit and went out in the field to pick their own pumpkins. The youngest brought home 21 pumpkins for her classroom to paint.

Went to Reny's in Bridgton and must say there were a lot of good buys and something for everyone.

Again, I say thank you to Mrs. Hoyt for allowing me to put some items in the column this summer.

To Mrs. Neiberle and everyone, I welcome any news you wish to have in the paper. Call 665-2460 or mail it to me at PO Box 105.

Wednesday evening at 6:30 is prayer meeting and Thursday morning at 9:30 is Ladies Bible Study. On Sunday, Nov. 12, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Strout will be at the church for both services. A delicious harvest dinner was served at the morning service on Oct.

29 with around 56 attending. This was followed by an afternoon service instead of an evening service.

On Oct. 29, 41 members of the Hoyt family joined together at Kenneth and Alice Hoyt's for a potluck supper and time of visiting. The oldest was Aunt Margaret Howitt and the youngest was three-months-old Drew. Five brothers and two sisters attended with some of their families.

The Historical Society will meet on Nov. 11 at the Town Complex at 7 p.m. Curator Larry Billings wants Bryant Pond to be a model for other communities historically and culturally. November begins the 28th year of the Historical Society and the curator says its success is due to offering the public the very best. Larry is proud of his service to the society and doesn't regret a thing he has done for it. He has two butter churns. One is an original one and one is a reproduction.

The West Paris Universalist Church will hold their annual Chicken Pie Supper on Thursday, Nov. 16, starting at 5:30 p.m. Tickets go on sale at 4:30 p.m. Price is $7 for adults, children 11 and under $3. This year being the 100th anniversary of the church instead of pie as dessert they will have cream cake served on pedestal plates, as was served years ago with their chicken pie suppers.

Thirty-two Senior Citizens attended the meeting, dinner and program on Thursday, Nov. 2, put on by John Davis with beautiful Japanese dolls made by his late wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Andre Cote of Rochester, N.H., visited Arlene Harrington on Nov. 4 and 5.

If you have news, give me a ring at 824-3350. Have a nice week. God Bless the Troops.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

The area has survived another Halloween. It wasn't the biggest of Halloweens compared to past years but it was fun and colorful. Some folks reported between 15 and 30 trick-or-treaters making the candy-grabbing rounds. There was a delegation to pick the best costume displayed in Hanover (the delegation consisted of this reporter). The best dressed trick-or-treater was Joan Tucker who dressed as an ugly old lady. That's a far cry from her day-to-day appearance!

The Hanover Planning Board met Wednesday for their monthly meeting. The board discussed projects for the winter including updating the Shoreland Zone Ordinance to meet state standards, revise certain provisions in the Site Plan Review, and create a Driveway Entrance Ordinance.

Spencer Couture is recuperating at home following back surgery.

Several deer have been run over and killed along Route 2 in Hanover. A few have reported deer hunting luck. Deer have been spotted hanging in open barn doors.

Dave and Clem Worcester went to Auburn last Tuesday to pick up supplies at one of those big hardware stores on Mount Auburn Avenue. By chance they met up with Al Messer of Poland and his friend as they all admired a well-restored 1939 Chevrolet truck in the parking lot. Al is a former school principal at Crescent Park School in Bethel.

November came and it is cold, darn cold. Overnight temperatures have been reported in the mid teens and highs just over freezing, never more than the low 40s. Can spring be far away?

West Paris

by Joyce Lamb

This past week the thermometer has been struggling to get up to 40 degrees. Each morning the frost is heavy on the lawns and walkways. Those that do not have a garage are busy scraping their windows. I do have a garage so my car is clear and ready to go anytime.

On Sunday, Nov. 12, Bernice Martin will be the guest speaker at 9 a.m. at the West Paris Universalist Church. Jim Burk is organist. All are welcome.

A. Sayward Lamb will be the guest speaker at the Whitman Memorial Library in Bryant Pond on Thursday, Nov. 9, at 10 a.m. He will tell about his newly published book, "Dear Tails and Other Tales." All are welcome. Refreshments will be served.

Once again I was at the Buckfield Funeral Home on Saturday. A very dear friend, Virginia Smith, who was 97, died at Market Square Nursing Home on Tuesday. She was a great historian and helped write the History of Buckfield, which was published a short time ago. Ben Conant spoke at length about her life and work.

On Sunday three Lambs celebrated November birthdays. A party was held at the home of Peggy Lamb and her husband Mike Seaton in Augusta. Jude Lamb, Peggy Lamb and Joyce Lamb were honored for they have birthdays the first week in November. Those attending were Jude Lamb and Rob Collins of Lamoine, Nina and Rob Hyssong and Emily and Joshua of South Portland, Kyra and Gene Flaherty and Molly of Sabbaths, Kelly and Cameron Hartley with Sophia, Weston and Nicolas of Auburn, and the host and hostess, Peg and Mike and Mother, Grammie and Great-Grammie Joyce was there. Cake made by Mike and ice cream were served. I did make two apple pies and brought home only the empty pie plates. All had an enjoyable time. I did get home before dark for the roads are all very good going through North Turner and Bear Pond.

Buffy is still with me and goes out and around the house and barn. I go out with him for walks. He is eating his tuna and prefers the juice. He still munches his dry food even though he has few teeth. He sleeps on my bed as he has for the 16 years that he has lived with me. Our best guess on an age for him is that he is in his early twenties. His abdomen is greatly swollen and hard but he seems to be comfortable and does not appear to be in any pain. He is in no condition for surgery so I will keep him as long as he is comfortable.

Andover

by Melinda Averill

Hello Andover folks. Hope that everyone got out on Tuesday and voted — remember, we certainly can't complain about the state of the state if we didn't.

Congratulations to Abby Mills on making high honors for the first ranking period at Mountain Valley High School, where she is a senior.

If any parents have school news that they would like me to put in on their child give me a call, or an e-mail.

Best wishes to Deanne (Bodemer) Rothwell, who is undergoing treatment in Indiana for her cancer.

A memorial service was held for Frances Dunn, who passed away on Sept. 25. She was a former Upton and Andover resident and widow of the late George H. Dunn. A celebration of her life was held at the Andover First Congregational Church on Saturday, Oct. 21. Her family feels an appropriate tribute to Frances would be a contribution to the Andover Educational Fund, Inc., P.O. Box 32, Andover, ME.

Peg and Joe Madigan returned home on Tuesday after spending five days in Indiana visiting with daughter and son-in-law, Suzann and Bryan Ware.

Saturday is Veterans Day, so the schools are closed on Friday — long weekend! There will probably be a lot of hunters out in the woods.

Dottie Mills traveled over to Reny's in Farmington last Saturday morning for the Early Bird Sale, 6 a.m. to 9 a.m. (yet she didn't buy a thing!). I think she just wanted an excuse to go out for lunch.

Have a nice weekend.

Waterford

by Rockie Graham

It is Election Day and the weather is warm and sunny, at least for the 7th of November. Perhaps that means people will turn out. I know many voted absentee this year. That makes it easier for those who can't get out. That is good.

Last Saturday, David and I and most of Stoneham and many Waterford residents went to the supper for the Stefano Family at Camp Susan Curtis. The turnout was great; it was nice to see so many residents turn out. We wish him the very best.

There is a potluck supper this Thursday, Nov. 9, at the North Waterford Congregational Church. It is sponsored by the Waterford Historical Society. It is called Your Grandmothers Potluck Supper. Please bring a favorite dish that your grandmother would have brought to a potluck supper. Music will be by David Capone of Harrison.

It will be great not having to listen to campaign ads anymore. They have been particularly harsh this year. Seems like dirty politics more than usual. That is too bad and not particularly helpful to anyone.

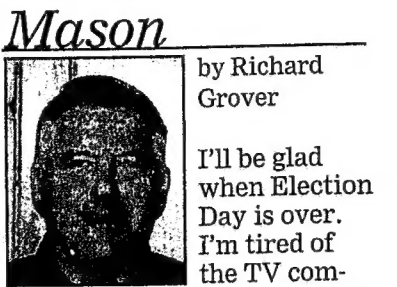

At least the local politicians do not seem to have taken part.

On the 10th, Ukelady Mary will be at the Books N Things in Norway from 7 to 8 p.m. FMI 739-6200.

Next Wednesday, the 15th, there is a book signing at Books N Things in Bethel for the book "Stealing History" from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. It is by William Andrews of Newry. FMI 824-2673.

This Saturday, the 11th, is Veterans Day. The transfer stations will be open.

This Saturday is also the third birthday of Sarah Arlene Hebert, daughter of Becky Morin and Chris Hebert. Sarah is the granddaughter of David Hart, Rockie Graham, Robin Hart and Charlie and Lil Hebert. Happy Birthday Sarah! That is all for this week. Have a great week.

Mason

by Richard Grover

I'll be glad when Election Day is over. I'm tired of the TV commercials and phone calls telling me how great some candidate is and how terrible the other party's candidate is. I think I'll go and re-register as an Independent. I can't stand the party politics any more.

In happier news, Matt Luden shot his first deer last Saturday, just before the end of legal shooting time. He had been out most of the day and was returning home, when he stopped in front of our house to talk to another fellow; this nice three-point buck walked down our driveway, across the road and into the pasture while the guys were there talking. Matt even phoned Monica to be sure if it was still legal to shoot before he downed the deer in the field.

Ain't it the way life is? I had spent most of last week hiking miles in the hills and valleys in this part of Mason without success, and Matt shot a deer practically in my front yard while I was up back in the woods! I'm not a very good hunter, I guess, because I hate to sit in one place very long to wait for them to come to me. I'd rather stalk them in their native hangouts; this is a more interesting, if less successful way to hunt alone. Besides, I get a lot more exercise this way.

Last Sunday was our "Thanksgiving Day" feast at the Legion Hall for the extended Ryerson/Lowe/Boyce families and friends. Craig and Jane Ryerson, Jim Lowe, Jim and Shirley Boyce, Carrie and Neal Phelps and others deserve a heap of credit for a lot of hard work setting up and cleaning up a feast of epic proportions. I think there were 55 people signed in the guest book.

Thought for the week: "Why not make the best of things? Any fool can make the worst of them." From November "Bits & Pieces" magazine.

Kent C. Ryden, director of the American and New England Studies Graduate Program at the University of Southern Maine in Portland, will be the featured speaker for the final lecture of the 2006 season. This series has been sponsored in part by a grant from the Maine Humanities Council in honor of the society's 40th anniversary of founding in 1966.

A graduate of Carroll College in Wisconsin, Ryden, who holds a master's degree in English from the University of Connecticut, and a Ph.D. in American Civilization from Brown University, will discuss the New England landscape with an eye to understanding its past. His topic will be, "Landscape with Figures: Nature and Culture in New England."

An associate professor at the University of Southern Maine since 1994, Dr. Ryden is the author of two books, "Mapping the Invisible Landscape: Folklore, Writing, and the Sense of Place" and "Landscape with Figures: Nature and Culture in New England." Dr. Ryden's presentation at the Dr. Moses Mason House Meeting Room will begin at 7:30 p.m. is free and open to anyone interested in attending.

With nearly 1,400 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most comprehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collecting, preserving, and interpreting the regional past for present and future generations. For forty years, the society's activities have included lectures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and educational programs, and publications. In 1974, the society acquired the former Broad Street residence of Dr. Moses Mason, which now contains a period house museum, exhibit hall and research library. In 1999, the society opened the O'Neil Robinson House (next door at 10 Broad Street) to the public for an expanded exhibit program, museum shop space, and administrative offices.

Through the years, the society's achievements have been recognized by a number of state and national organizations.

In line with WMSC's mission statement "to offer intellectually stimulating learning opportunities and activities for adults ages 50 and older," they will be looking at what WMSC should be offering the community now and in the years ahead. Interested members are encouraged to give suggestions to board members who include: Jackie Cressy, Joanna Drummond, Peter Gartner, Pat Carter, Walter Brough, Nancy Davis, Wendy Iseman, Rosabelle Tift, Jeanie Waite, Joe Arizzi, Walter Hatch, Bonnie Pooley and Jodi Carter.

Anyone interested in joining WMSC may contact J. Cressy at 824-0508 for a brochure and membership application.

From the Bethel Rotary Club

The Rotary Club of Bethel is entering a very busy part of the year, with many fundraisers scheduled.

Upcoming events include our Country Breakfast, which will take place Nov. 26 from 7:30 to 11 a.m. at Gould Academy's Ordway Hall.

The Senior Citizen Christmas Dinner, scheduled for Dec. 12 at the Locke Mills Legion Hall.

December will also bring bell ringing at the Bethel Foodliner, to raise funds for Christmas for Children.

Club members have been busy with other projects as well.

Bob Laux will leave the end of this month for Vietnam for the dedication of a rural library. Bob helped with fundraising in our Rotary district to support the project.

Rotarians also recently participated in a job fair at Telstar High School, and, with the help of other volunteers, delivered fire wood to needy families in the area.

Speakers

Recent meetings have included the following speakers:

Susan Isham described her Rotary Group Study Exchange trip to the Southern Caribbean. She visited Trinidad and San Fernando, which she described as more industrial; attended a conference in Guyana, which is populated by an extreme of rich and poor residents; visited Grenada, still recovering from Hurricane Ivan; St. Lucia, a prime tourist attraction with a live volcano; Barbados, where she had an opportunity to take a submarine trip and swim with sea turtles.

Susan expressed her appreciation for the chance to take part in the exchange and learn about the Southern Caribbean cultures and how her vocation in the tourist industry is practiced there.

At another meeting, Nancy Bessey of Dallas Plantation spoke to us about a work project she did involving the use of art as a metaphor for change in the business environment.

She has worked with large companies on long-term business plans. She brought works of contemporary art and sculpture into an electricity trading business.

Employees were encouraged to talk about, and criticize, the pieces. They became a gathering point for open discussion, which carried over to the business itself.

The art, she said, encourages workers to think about things in completely different ways. Over time, employees began to use some of the pieces as good luck charms with their projects.

The office also provided diversions such as ping pong and video games to allow employees to work off stress.

Club overview

The Rotary Club of Bethel is a service group that is very active in local community service projects and in providing financial support for other area organizations.

In recent years the club has funded a town clock for Bethel and the construction of bridges at Camp Susan Curtis in Stoneham.

Annually, the club sponsors a Christmas Senior Citizen luncheon and distributes Christmas gifts to needy area children with its Christmas for Children effort.

The club supports graduating high school seniors by awarding more than $7,000 in scholarships annually.

We also support cultural exchanges with foreign countries for area students and adults. And as part of Rotary International projects, we provide funds for medical services for Polio Plus (polio immunization) and Rotoplast (surgery for children with cleft lip and palate).

In addition, we fund our own individual overseas projects, such as a water system for a NICKELODEON GRANT WINNER—The Mahoosuc Arts Council is an official winner of Nickelodeon's "Let's Just Play Giveaway." The application of Rose and Rachel Goldberg (pictured here with MAC director Vicki Rackliffe), submitted in the council's name, was selected to receive a grant in the amount of $5,000 to be used in support of projects that enhance opportunities for kids to engage in active and healthy play experience. Nickelodeon recognizes the importance of active play in the lives of kids and seeks to put kids first in all of their endeavors. That's why they created "Let's Just Play," a grassroots, multi-media public service campaign launched in 2002. It is designed to equip kids with the information and resources they need to bring active play back into their everyday lives. This year, the Alliance for a Healthier Generation, an initiative of the William J. Clinton Foundation and the American Heart Association is teaming up with "Let's Just Play" to spread the word. Nickelodeon has dedicated over $1 million to communities through the giveaway. Mahoosuc Arts Council has designated the grant funding to enhance healthy play experiences throughout the 2006-2007 season. Events have and will include: the free Circus Skills workshops held at the Maine Performing Arts Festival this past August, partnering with the AES, CPS and WES parent teacher groups to present a participatory production of "The Princess and the Pea" by Children's Stage Adventures, as well as three theatrical workshops during the week of Dec. 4-9, support of the Western Maine Girls Association's Girls on the Run event in May 2007, and other events that have yet to be determined.

school in Kenya, and a portable dental unit for Uruguay.

Regular fundraising activities include several annual events: an auction/yard sale; a golf tournament; two country breakfasts; and food booths at several community events.

We are happy to have individuals interested in possibly joining the club join us for breakfast on Tuesday mornings. For more information contact Steve Wight at 824-2410.

From

Western Maine Girls Association

A big reminder — The Family and Community 5K running/walking event that has happened the Saturday after Veterans Day, has been postponed until spring. The plan is to have this event the Saturday before Mother's Day, so mark your calendars.

The Western Maine Girls Association was invited to have a display at last Monday night's Maine Women's Fund dinner to celebrate Maine Women and Girls. It was awe inspiring and an honor to be included in a gathering of over 1,000 people celebrating the work that is being done to support girls and women.

The WMGA has received a grant from the Maine Women's Fund to, among other things, offer workshops to girls and women. The WMGA offered a workshop with Arla Patch a few weeks where she offered her magic with a workshop entitled "Access One's Creativity." The next offering will be Journal Making on Nov. 18 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. with Kate. If you are interested, please contact Kate at 824-3459.

Upcoming workshops will be a mother-daughter self-defense, Women's Health, snowshoeing.

Again we thank our ongoing supporters. The newest supporter is Wentworth Woodworking Custom Homes and Timber Frames. Thank you.

From

Andover Education Fund

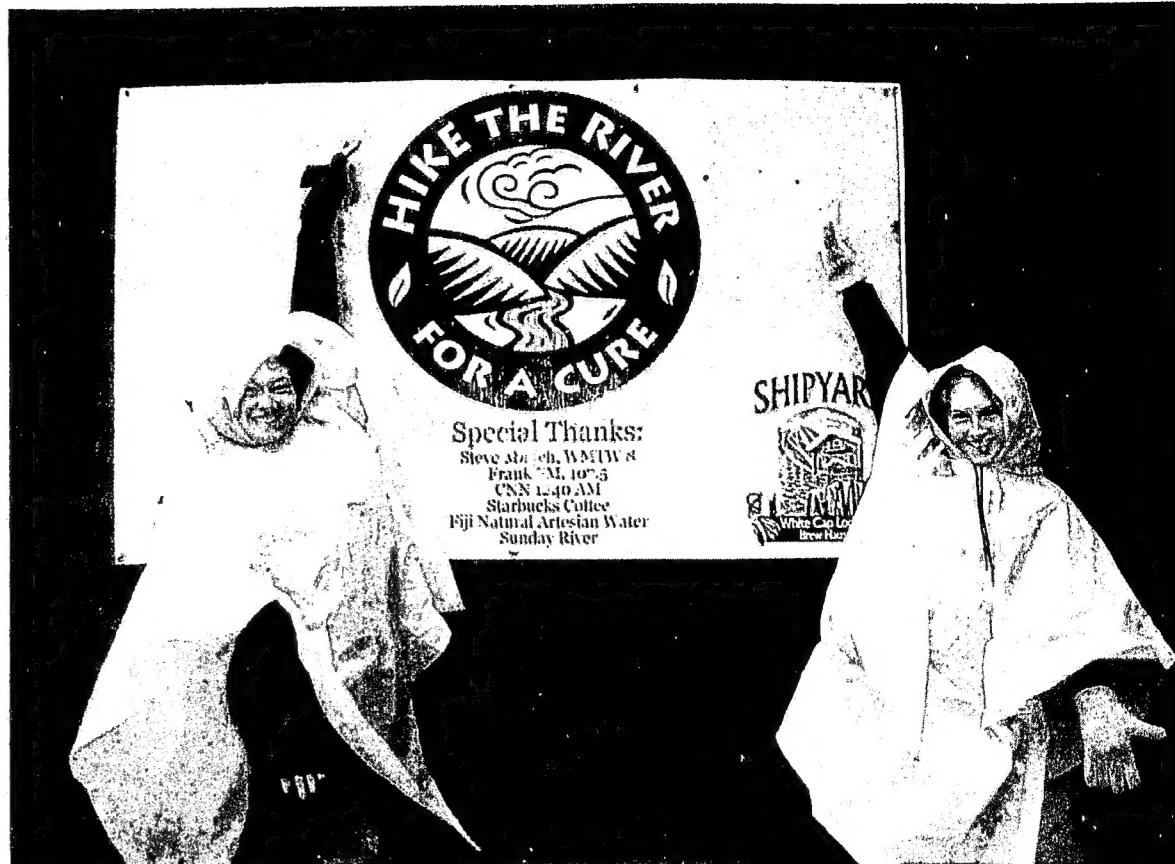

In spite of the late start this year, the Edfund Campaign 2006 is off and running. Many have expressed an interest in Bob and Janet Spidell, who provide the generous match up to $10,000.

Robert Spidell was born and raised in Andover. He graduated from Andover High School in 1951, and served in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1953 to 1956.

Settling in Southern California in 1958, he graduated from Long Beach City College in 1960 and California State University, Long Beach in 1965 with a BA in Economics. He has devoted considerable time to CSULB over the years, and was awarded the President's Commitment to the University Award in 1994-95; received the President's Distinguished Service Award in 1997; and was named the Distinguished Alumnus from the College of Liberal Arts in 2003.

He married Janet Ann Murphy in 1963 and they have four children and six grandchildren, all of whom live in Southern California.

After working in aerospace for several years, he founded his own information services firm, Spidell Publishing, Inc., in 1974, and became the leading publisher of California tax information. The firm published loose-leaf books and newsletters, conducted California and federal tax seminars for tax professionals, and moved into electronic publishing with CD ROMs and a subscription website, caltax.com.

FUNDS RAISED TO FIGHT CANCER—Last week Hike the River for a Cure raised more than $3,000 for the Maine Cancer Foundation's Women's Cancer Fund. The hike took place at the Shipyard Brew Haus White Cap Lodge, Sunday River. Despite the inclement weather, 56 people hiked a 2 ½ mile loop on mountain trails surrounding White Cap Lodge. The Maine Cancer Foundation is a non profit organization dedicated to improving the health and well being of Maine people. All of the funds raised by Hike the River for a Cure stay in Maine and go toward scientific research, professional and public education and patient support programs. Hike the River for a Cure was part of the 1st Annual Pumpkinhead Festival at Sunday River.

He sold Spidell Publishing, Inc. to his employees in 1997 and retired to San Clemente, Calif.

In 1987 he proposed a plan to the Andover High School Alumni Association that would help Andover High School graduates pay for their continuing education by seeking donations from Andover residents, former residents and AHS alums. That plan has evolved into the very successful Andover Educational Fund.

Several years ago he developed and continually updates an historical and genealogical website for Andover, which includes births, deaths, marriages, headstone inscriptions, obituaries, photos and other similar items. URL: andovermaine.com. He has written one history book about Andover and is working on another one.

He is interested in history and is a member of the Andover Historical Society, Bethel Historical Society, Maine Historical Society, New England Historic Genealogical Society, San Juan Capistrano, Calif., Historical Society, Orange County Historical Society, a trustee and member of the Board of Directors of the Orange County California Genealogical Society, member of the Board of Directors and a two-term past president of the California State University at Long Beach Alumni Association, teaches occasional classes on using computers in genealogical research, and is past president of the Docent's Society at the old Spanish Mission in San Juan Capistrano, Calif.

The 2006 donors to the Andover Educational Fund include: Albert Abbott, Buckfield; Andover Service Circle,

Western Maine University and Community College Center

Open registration for university spring semester courses will begin Thursday, Nov. 9, at Western Maine University and Community College Center (WMUCC). Telstar Regional High School in Bethel is also offering spring courses. The spring semester begins Jan. 16.

WMUCC will offer four courses taught by university instructors onsite at the center as well as more than 200 courses delivered via interactive television (ITV) and the Internet. Students may choose from 39 degree and certificate programs offered by Maine's seven public universities.

New for spring semester 2007 is University of Southern Maine's certificate program, Foundations of Holistic Health. The program is designed for students interested in exploring the realm of contemporary healing. All courses will be available online or via ITV/videoconference.

In addition to courses, WMUCC offers students a full range of support services. Center advisors provide career counseling and assist students with financial aid applications, course registrations, book orders, computer access, and more. Financial aid is available for qualified students, as are university scholarships.

Director of WMUCC, Nikki Abbott, encourages those who are thinking about taking a course or exploring degree programs to contact the center as soon as possible. "Now is a good time, before courses begin to fill, to prepare for the upcoming semester," said Abbott. "We can help students select from a wide variety of courses that best fit their goals and schedules."

For more information about WMUCC and spring semester courses, please contact: Nikki Abbott or Shannon Moxcey at 743-9322 or visit: www.learn.maine.edu.

From the

Charlotte Hobbs Memorial Library

The Monthly Speaker Program at the Charlotte Hobbs Memorial Library in Lovell will present author John Howe on Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 7 p.m.

John Howe, resident of Waterford since 1980, is passionate about making people aware that the lifestyle to which we have become accustomed is not sustainable. A diminishing supply of oil and natural gas will affect every aspect of our lives, especially food production and distribution. His book, "The End of Fossil Energy and the Last Chance for Sustainability," is an attempt to envision a model of a low-energy, sustainable, modern lifestyle with a timely plan to get there.

As Howe writes in his book, "We are headed for the energy cliff and the demise of modern civilization. We are on a collision course with disaster. We are all on one lifeboat and must share resources and pull in unison if there is to be any future worth living." According to Howe, we must change behaviors dependent upon cheap oil such as commuting long distances, building 2,000-square-foot homes for small families, and driving vehicles that travel at 80 miles an hour while using a gallon of gasoline every 20 miles.

At this time of tightened supply Howe tells us that 1/8 of the world's petroleum goes to satisfy the U.S. appetite for gasoline, equaling 400 million gallons per day. And yet, in order to substitute just 5 percent of our diesel fuel consumption with soybean-based bio fuels, it would take 30 million acres, or one tenth of our arable land. "You've got to put numbers to these things to understand that efficiency and conservation are vital to our response."

Howe, a frequent lecturer on sustainability and energy, is also the builder of a solar-powered concept car, and a solar-powered tractor proven on his farm.

John dedicated his book "To my children and all the children of the world — they will need all the resources we can conserve."

All welcome. Refreshments served. For more info call 925-3177.

From

Moontide Martial Arts Academy

Nick Graham of Moontide Martial Arts, who holds a first-degree black belt in Judo and a first-degree brown belt in Ju Jitsu, captured a first place in the brown and black belt super heavy weight division of the Maine Games, the State Championship contest in Judo. Nick is the son of Michael Blaisdell of Bethel and Wayne and Diane Farnum of Roxbury.

Dawson Walton, a first-degree black belt in Ju Jitsu who holds no rank in Judo captured a third place in the white to brown belt heavy weight division in the same contest and both have qualified to compete in the Judo Nationals in Colorado in 2007.

Both are students of Moontide Martial Arts Academy held at the greater Rumford Community Center taught by James G. Carey.

The two have been facing a heavy competitive agenda as both are scheduled to compete in Maine Skirmish, the premier grappling tournament in Maine on Sunday, Nov. 12, in Winslow. Walton is also scheduled for competition in a Mixed Martial Contest on Nov. 18 in Mansfield, Mass.

Dawson Walton also coaches a Ju Jitsu program at Generations in Mexico assisted by Graham. It is at that same facility that Nick Graham intends to start a Judo program in the future.

We wish them both well in their competitive endeavors.

The River Valley area has had a consistent history of producing top-level competitors in the martial arts arena. Martial Arts classes have been offered through the Greater Rumford Community Center and now through Generations at highly affordable rates.

From

Rumford Community Concert Association

On Wednesday, Nov. 15, the Rumford Community Concert Association will present the first concert of the 2006-07 series at Muskie Auditorium, Mountain Valley High School at 7:30 p.m.

The season will open with Bay Street Brassworks, which is fast becoming one of America's busiest brass ensembles. The group, featuring trombone, French horn, tuba and two trumpets came together in 1995 in Baltimore, Md. In 2004, percussion was added to the ensemble, providing an invigorating rhythmic texture. In addition to regular engagements in the greater Baltimore and Washington, D.C., areas, this versatile band also tours extensively throughout the United States and abroad.

Bay Street Brassworks performs pieces from a variety of genres, including classical, show tunes, Dixieland, rock, movie songs, and numerous compositions penned by the group's own members. This wide range of musical scope has resulted in an equally wide variety of engagements, from the opening ceremonies at Baltimore Orioles baseball games to world premiere performances at the 2004 Brass Chamber Music Forum. The Brassworks' seemingly endless versatility and educational outreach has resulted in programming that is consistently "in touch" with people of all ages, leaving audiences nationwide asking for more.

Rumford Community Concert events are sold by annual subscription, or $35 for all three concerts (including Hector Olivera and Bronn Journey in addition to Bay Street Brassworks). However, in an effort to help defray our costs, the association will open this concert to the general public at a cost of $20 per person. Rumford Community Concert Association volunteers will be available at this concert to assist anyone who would like to join. Memberships are $35 for adults, seniors $30, $10 for students, and Family Memberships are $75.

Oddfellow Theater to Present November Early Evening Shows

The ODDFELLOW Theater in Buckfield will present The Early Evening Show Friday & Saturday November 10th & 11th. Show time is 7:30 doors open at 7:00

The Early Evening Show at the Oddfellow Theater in Buckfield is now in its ninth season. Led by Michael Miclon and his cast of "odd" actors, each show is an unduplicated original.

The Early Evening Show is a zany mix of Sid Caesar's "Your Show of Shows", The Ed Sullivan Show, The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson and a splash of Monty Python. Mike Miclon, a twenty-year veteran of the variety stage, hosts this would-be late night talk show. Miclon uses his unique timing and quick wit to interview guests, involve audience members and antagonize local market owner, Virgil Tilton.

The Early Evening Show has been the best-selling, longest-running performance at the Oddfellow Theater since it opened in 1998. The show has been featured on CBS Sunday Morning with Charles Osgood, in Yankee Magazine and was even brought to Interlaken, Switzerland for a special performance for the Timberland Company. Mike will be joined by co-host Amy Latham-Rinck.

The Early Evening Show comes complete with the Early Evening Show Orchestra, amazing guests from around the country, hilarious commercials, comic sketches and spectacular finales.

Seasons past have seen everything from a Pulitzer Prize-winning poet, a Cirque de Soleil circus performer and WCSH 6 weatherman Joe Cupo.

Each show is filled with wild improvisations, surprise guests and extra room for audience input. You never know who will show up or show off on this wild night of comedy.

The Early Evening Show is live on Friday & Saturday November 10th & 11th at 7:30 p.m. Doors open at 7:00 P.M. Tickets are $12 for adults, $10 for seniors, and $6 for children 12 and under. REAL ESTATE AND YOU

NEW ON THE MARKET

One of the best strategies for successfully marketing your home is to make the most of that golden period of time when your property is "new on the market" - the first thirty days after your home is listed for sale.

New listings receive the most exposure during the first thirty days, when the chances of making a sale are much higher. What selling strategy will position your home to compete successfully with other comparable properties for sale in your neighborhood?

Set your asking price to compete with available properties of equivalent size, age and condition. Most buyers who are screening homes will start with the least expensive desirable properties and then work up, and you want your home to be one of the first they look at.

Prepare your home to sell before you list it, so that is in absolutely top showing condition. Be ready to open the door of an immaculate home to buyers, even in the first hours it appears on the multiple listings.

Ask your Realtor to promote your property intensively during this crucial "new on the market" period, and be ready for results!

ELLIS ALFRED STONE
Ellis Alfred Stone died peacefully Monday, Nov. 6, 2006 at his long-time home in Otisfield at the age of 92, with his family by his side.

He was born in East Otisfield Feb. 5, 1914 in an early house that sat just east of his grandfather, Ellis R. Stone's general store. He walked across the Mill Pond bridge to elementary school in one of Otisfield's eight one-room school houses now a residence. There were eight grades, sometimes nine with one teacher. Ellis graduated from Mechanic Falls High School in 1932. His early recollections are of a small close-knit village with a busy sawmill, mill pond, coopers shop, two stores, his father's garage and a cannery. The majority of the traffic through town was horse-drawn and Otisfield did not yet have phones or electricity.

After graduating from high school Ellis moved to Portland living with his family and working at various interesting places. Returning to Otisfield after a couple of years of city living he worked in Norway first at a restaurant and then at B.E. Cole shoe company. Over the years stories have surfaced of interesting calamities tapping the beer kegs in the restaurant.

On Sept. 2, 1938 Ellis married Estelle Margaret Pottle of Otisfield and settled down to farm and raise a family at the Pottle family homestead on Stonehirst Road where he spent the remainder of his life. Ellis and Estelle had three children who shared their parents' love of the farm at "Pottles Crossing." Ellis never minded work and soon found himself working the farm with its small herd of dairy cattle during the day and at Robinson Manufacturing Company in Oxford at night. He described his years at Robinson as starting at the bottom and over the course of forty years working up to Overseer of Picking and Carding. He retired in 1981.

An active Mason Ellis belonged to Oxford Lodge AF&AM No. 18 of Norway, Royal Arch Masons Chapter No. 29 of Norway, Royal and Select Masters Counsel No. 14 of Norway, Oriental Commandery Knights Templar No. 22 of Bridgeport. He is a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason, a member of Kora Shrine of Lewiston, a past Master of Oxford Lodge and a Past Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Maine. He was also a member of Oxford Chapter No. 168 Order of the Eastern Star.

Ellis was a long-time member of the East Otisfield Free Baptist Church serving as chairman of the Diaconate, moderator and greeter for many years. He portrayed Joe Holden at the annual Joe Holden Church Picnic.

He enjoyed hunting, fishing, traveling and visiting friends and relatives across the United States and Europe. He had many friends scattered across the face of the earth with whom he stayed in contact. He was a consummate birthday, get well and Christmas card sender. His many friends will miss his cheerful greetings.

Ellis was predeceased by his dear wife of fifty-five years, Estelle Pottle Stone. He is survived by three children and their spouses; Elizabeth Watson and husband David of Casco, Robert Stone and his wife Jessica of Nottingham, Pa., and Caroline (Callie) Zilinsky and husband Joseph of Otisfield. He has four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. He is also survived by many nieces, nephews, great nieces and nephews, great-great-nieces and nephews, and yes even three great-great-nieces and nephews all of whom he knew well as they all congregated at the Pottle family camp on Lake Thompson every summer. He is also survived by a dear friend, Stephen Doughty of Otisfield.

Ellis will be sadly missed by his friends and acquaintances.

Family and friends are invited to attend visiting hours on Friday, Nov. 10, from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 9 p.m. at Oxford Hills Funeral Services, 1037 Main Street, Route 26, Oxford, with public Masonic Services by Oxford Lodge AF&AM at 7 p.m. Funeral services will be held on Saturday, Nov. 11, at 1 p.m. at the Otisfield Free Baptist Church with the Rev. Gertrude DeCoteau officiating. Interment will follow at the Elmwood Cemetery across from the church. Donations in Ellis' memory may be sent to the Memorial Fund, c/o The East Otisfield Free Baptist Church, PO Box 680, Oxford, ME 04270. Online condolences may be expressed to the family at chris@oxfordhillsfuneralservices.com.
